

MALAJUNTA

Malbec Reserva

95% Malbec, 5% Cabernet Franc | 2022
Region: Los Árboles, Tunuyán. Valle de Uco. Mendoza.

Vineyards: 30-year-old high trellis conduction system located at 1,200 masl with the presence of sandy loam alluvial soils, and round and angular stones.

Soil: alluvial sandy loam with a strong presence of round and angular stones. The interspersed layers of loose sand confer great denial to the soil. From a certain height when moving within the same vineyard, calcium carbonate is found.

Irrigation: a drip irrigation system is used, which, thanks to the permeability of the soil, we manage to control the vigor of the plant during the vegetative cycle.

Maceration: pre-fermentative, cold, for approximately 5 days at 10°C in stainless steel tanks.

Maceration: approximate pre-fermentation of 5 days at 8 °C in stainless steel tanks with a capacity of 1,000 liters.

Fermentation: with indigenous yeasts up to 4° of alcohol, then inoculated with LSA until the end of the fermentation. At temperatures between 27 and 29 Co, daily pump-overs and FML in American oak barrels.

Aging: 12 months in second-use American oak barrels.

Guard potential: 5 years in ideal conditions

Tasting Notes

Color: an attractive, intense and brilliant bluish-red color stands out.

Nose: ripe red fruits, candied fruits, local herbs, white pepper and slight hints of vanilla that achieve a persistent aroma in the glass are appreciated.

Mouth: presents a friendly entry with robust tannins, long finish and balanced acidity. Ripe plums and dark chocolate stand out, thanks to its time in French and American oak barrels.
